

Hospital inpatient pathology

Patients may have pathology tests performed by Douglass Hanly Moir Pathology during their stay in hospital.

The costs of these pathology tests are now covered by all the major health funds. Hospital inpatients will not incur out-of-pocket expenses for Medicare rebatable pathology if they are a member of the participating funds listed below.

A Medicare rebate is the subsidy provided by the Australian Government for services that are included in the Medicare Benefits Schedule. If any of your tests are not covered in this Schedule, you will not receive a rebate. You will need to pay for these tests in full.
